Create multiple macros in the same tab. KEYMACRO's powerful and easy-to-use interface lets you quickly create macros that can automate complex actions. Each action can be divided into a sequence of steps that can be repeated and tweaked to your specific needs. KEYMACRO can be run in batch mode, which lets you run several macros in the same tab. Every new macro added to the tab is saved automatically, and any change to the macro is stored in the existing one. KEYMACRO has easy-to-use wizards that guide you through the process of creating a macro, and it can be expanded further by creating custom actions and rules. KEYMACRO has an intuitive interface that lets you create actions that are: * time-based: You can set how much time should be between steps * repetition-based: You can set how many times should a specific step be repeated * type-based: You can set the actions to be performed on specific events (e.g. the mouse moves over a button, or a button is clicked). You can set the actions to be performed when specific text is entered in a text box or a combo box. * choice-based: You can set the actions to be performed when a user selects an option from a list of options. * file-based: You can set the actions to be performed when a file opens or is modified * URL-based: You can set the actions to be performed when a specific web page is loaded * button-based: You can set the actions to be performed on a specific button * mouse-based: You can set the actions to be performed when a specific mouse button is clicked. * window-based: You can set the actions to be performed when a specific window appears or disappears * number-based: You can set the actions to be performed when a specific numeric value is changed * multiple choice-based: You can set the actions to be performed when a user selects from a list of options, and one of the options is selected * start-time-based: You can set the actions to be performed at a specific time * results-based: You can set the actions to be performed when a user finishes a task. All actions can be tweaked by setting conditional rules, as well as delayed actions. KEYMACRO is implemented as a COM server that can be used either as an 1d6a3396d6
